FRATERNALISM DISCUSSED BY GOVERNOR KITCHIN

State's Chief Executive Heard by Large and Appreciative Audience
Last Night at Revolution—Introduced by E. Sternberger as Next
United States Senator.

Before a large and appreciative audience of Red Men and members of other fraternal organizations at Revolution last night Gov. W. W. Kitchin delivered a forceful and timely address on "Fraternalism." The governor was in fine condition and his enunciation was perfect. He declared that he had no set speech to make, but preferred to have a heart to heart talk with his brother "Red Men" and any palefaces who might be present.

The address was delivered in the chapel of the Revolution Graded school, this being a large room capable of accommodating several hundred people. It is needless to say that every seat was taken while others congregated along the sides of the room. In addition to the mill people there were present a number of Red Men, as well as a number of citizens, from Greensboro.

After calling the meeting to order H. Sternberger called on F. J. Blackwood, who explained the origin of secret orders and their value to humanity. Mr. Blackwood was heard with interest.

Mr. Sternberger then called on E. Sternberger to introduce the Governor. Before introducing the speaker Mr. Sternberger said that he had watched the career of Governor Kitchin with interest and it afforded him peculiar pleasure to state that he had done his duty as chief executive of the State. He said this was an age of commercialism, but is fast growing into an age of fraternalism. Referring again to the Governor he said "some day our guest will represent us in the great council of the nation." He then introduced "W. W. Kitchin, governor of our state and our next United States Senator." The Governor was heartily applauded as he smilingly acknowledged the closing sentence of the introduction.

The Governor spoke for less than an hour and every word made a deep impression upon his hearers. He declared that nothing lives long that does not deserve to live and therefore the fact that secret orders have lived through countless ages is evidence that they deserve to live. He said that the mission of secret orders was not to instill into the hearts of the members the principles for which they should stand, for those principles were already there. Therefore the organization was only for the purpose of reminding the members of their duty to their fellowmen. We all acknowledge the fatherhood of God, he said, and we should realize more fully the fact that this carries with it the thought of the brotherhood of man; we are sons of God and therefore we are all brothers. He pointed out that we are our brothers' keeper. We are also responsible for public opinion in the community in which we live, he said.

Regarding the lodge room the speaker declared there were no lines there; that rich and poor met on common ground. The lodge room is a great leveler, he said, men who are rich leave their wealth outside the lodge room. When I enter a lodge room I leave outside my office as Governor and am on a common level with the poorest man inside the order.

Friendship was then described by the speaker, being followed by an urgent call to his hearers to ever respond to duty, whether it be pleasant or not. If we only do what we love to do then we are failures. It is doing our duty when it goes against the grain to do it that counts, he said.

At the conclusion of the address a large number of his friends gathered around the Governor to shake his hand and wish him success.

STRAIN BREAKS AMERICANS

Workmen Generally Collapse When Europeans Are In Prime.

London, Aug. 26.—The British Consul-General at New York, C. W. Bennett, in a report to the London Board of Trade, compares American and European labor, and the conclusion he comes to is that the American worker puts more energy into his work than the European laborer in his own country, but that at between 40 and 50 years of age, when the European workman is at his best, the American frequently breaks down. Physical exhaustion, dyspepsia or nervous prostration follow, and then the man's life as a worker is done.

MOODY ROADS IN VIRGINIA BELAY THE BEATTIE TRIAL

Officials and Witnesses
Were Unable to Arrive on Time.

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Aug. 26.—Proceedings in the Beattie trial were delayed this morning by muddy roads, making it impossible for people to come down from Richmond in time for the opening of court at the usual hour.

E. K. Moseley, one of the joy-riding youths who are alleged to have passed Beattie and his wife near the scene of the crime on the night of the murder, was the first witness examined today. He stated that he saw a gentleman and a lady at a store near the road. The man was working with the hood of his machine and the lady was standing on the running board of the car. "We offered to help them, but the man refused to allow us to do so," Moseley said. He stated that he made a subsequent trip to the scene of the murder in a taxicab with Detective Scherer. Moseley testified to practically the same facts as W. D. Sydnor, another one of the joy riders who was placed on the stand yesterday.

Mrs. Jesse Binford, mother of Beulah Binford, was placed on the witness stand to testify for the prosecution. She was temporarily excused while the jury was examining the automobile to ascertain whether blood could have run through the bottom and to examine the seats for blood stains. After Mrs. Binford was excused W. I. Brown, a storekeeper was called. He testified to finding a loaded shell near the scene of the murder.

ATWOOD WINS TITLE AMERICA'S GREATEST FLYING MACHINE MAN

New York, Aug. 26.—Sailing serenely over New York's myriad of water craft, Harry N. Atwood, the Boston aviator, arrived here yesterday afternoon in his aeroplane, the first man in history to travel 1,265 miles in a heavier-than-air machine.

His safe landing on Governors Island, after flying down from Nyack above the Hudson River, through fog which made him only dimly visible, to the millions of eyes watching him, was a notable incident in the annals of aeronautics. He not only broke the world's record, but flew all the way in the same biplane with no important mishaps.

Atwood's flight is comparable only to that made by fast trains, for he covered the distance from St. Louis to New York in an actual flying time of 28 hours and 31 minutes, and landed here dapper, smiling, happy and hungry, in the arms of a handful of United States army officers and men, who hailed him as America's greatest aviator.

Atwood said that he supposed his next long distance flight would be from San Francisco or Los Angeles to the Atlantic coast.

TRIES SUICIDE THIRD TIME

Chinese Student Was Sentenced For Shooting Woman Teacher.

Bangor, Maine, Aug. 26.—After being sentenced to serve 15 years in the State prison for assault with intent to kill Miss Christine Shaw, of Orono, Tse Shen Linn, a Chinese government student at the University of Maine, today made his third attempt to kill himself.

Linn was Miss Shaw's pupil and while learning languages learned love also. When Miss Shaw refused to marry her pupil Linn shot her on June 8, inflicting a slight wound. Immediately after the shooting he drank poison without effect.

Last Saturday night he was found hanging in his jail cell and was cut down.

While being led from court today he tried to choke himself with a silk handkerchief, and it took five deputies to put him in handcuffs and a strait-jacket.

Street Car Line Will Run Directly Through Father Knickerbocker's $12,000,000 Skyscraper

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

New York's latest construction freak is found in its new municipal building, which will have a street car line running through it. The building extends over two blocks, and in order to not entirely close the thoroughfare between them an opening has been left which will permit the passing of street cars. The building will be 560 feet high, and there will be forty stories, including the tower. In the basement, thirty-five feet below the street, there will be a six track subway station. The building will house all of the city's departmental offices and will cost $12,000,000 to build.

UTAH

Powerful War Vessel
Turned Over to the Today.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 26.—The battleship Utah, the most powerful war vessel in the navy has been delivered by the builders to the navy department. The Utah will join the Atlantic fleet in Hampton Roads.

CHARTER OF THE TOMLINSON CHAIR COMPANY AMENDED

This morning an instrument was filed for recording in the office of the clerk of Superior court certifying to the change in the charter of the Tomlinson Chair Company, of High Point, which has increased its capital stock from $250,000 to $750,000, $500,000 of which is common stock and the remainder preferred. This company has the largest capital stock of any concern in the county.

Atwood Takes Train.

New York, Aug. 26.—Owing to unfavorable weather conditions this morning Harry N. Atwood, the aviator who acquired national fame by his record-breaking flight from St. Louis, decided this morning not to fly to Boston. Accordingly he boarded a train for that city.

MANY

Killed and Injured in Magazine Explosion
in Port Limon.

Port Limon, Aug. 26.—Half the town of San Jose, Cal., is in ruins and many are dead, while scores are injured as a result of an explosion of a magazine at the barracks here this morning. The cause of the explosion is unknown at this time, but officials are making a thorough investigation.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR TRADE EXCURSION

Merchants, manufacturers, bankers, insurance men and all business men interested in the Trade Excursion are requested to meet in the office of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at 8:30 o'clock to hear the report of the committee in charge of the excursion and to discuss further plans. This is important and it is hoped that the meeting will be largely attended.

C. C. McLEAN,
Secretary.

Greensboro Man Married in Salisbury.

Salisbury, Aug. 26.—A marriage took place at the boarding house of C. G. Sowers, on North Main street late yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Harria Howard, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Lizzie Howard, of Norwood. Rev. Plyler, of Albemarle, performing the ceremony. Although the groom is 32 and the bride 25, the marriage was a surprise and was on the run-away order. They will live in Greensboro.

BOARD

Of Trade of New Orleans Appeals for Uniform Freight Rates.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The New Orleans Board of Trade has complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission that the Louisville & Nashville and Illinois Central railroads are charging higher freight rates on Kentucky tobacco, exported to Ireland, than on shipments made to England. The Board of Trade asked the commission to establish a uniform rate of 21 1-2 cents per hundred pounds at the shipside for deliveries from Kentucky to all European points.

PLAINTIFF GETS DAMAGES FROM REVOLUTION MILLS

In Superior Court this morning the jury in the case of Lee Thompson vs. Revolution Cotton Mills returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff the sum of $4000 as damages because of injuries received while working in the Revolution Mills. The amount asked for was $5,000. The case was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon, but no agreement was reached until this morning.

This was the last jury trial of the term. The remainder of the morning session was taken up with the consideration of motions and signing judgments and hearing special reports.

SOUTH TO HAVE BIG EXHIBIT IN SOUTHERN BUILDING

Southern Commercial
Congress Reserves Big
Space for This Purpose.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, president of the Southern Commercial Congress, today signed a contract for big space in the new $2,000,000 southern building and the space will be used for the exhibit from the Southern States, which will be opened about October 1.

Managing Director Dawe said today: "This exhibit will be a great educational feature, showing all the resources and products of the south."

Dr. Clarence J. Owens, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Commercial Congress, will have direct charge of the exhibit.

NO ARRESTS FOR LYNCHING

Burning of Oklahoma Negro To Go Unpunished.

Purcell, Okla., Aug. 26.—Town officers today leveled a heap of ashes that smoldered all night in the main square, where a mob wreaked summary vengeance on a negro who attacked a white woman. Other blacks remained close to their shacks, as feeling against them runs high among the white residents.

Although Deputy Sheriffs Hayes and Farris know the mob leaders who locked them in an office of the courthouse before burning Cape Carter, a negro, at stake, no arrests are expected. Mrs. Minnie Spraggins, wife of a farmer, who was almost killed by Carter when he attacked her in the Spraggins home in the absence of her husband, has small chances of recovery.

SENATOR OVERMAN PREDICTS DEMOCRATIC VICTORY NEXT YEAR

Salisbury, Aug. 26.—Senator Lee S. Overman arrived home from Washington City yesterday. To a reporter he stated today that he is "home for a rest."

The Senator is looking fine, and while he says he is resting he does not appear to need it at all. The hustle and bustle of the extraordinary session only served to stimulate his energies and if it was necessary he would get out on the stump tomorrow or go back to Washington.

The Senator is in the best of humor. In regard to the wool and cotton bills he said, "We didn't expect Mr. Taft to sign them, but we have got the administration in a hole."

Asked what effect he thought the President's action would have on the next national election he said he believed it would cause the Democrats to sweep the country.

ALLEGED RINGLEADER HELD

Important Arrest At Coatesville In Negro Lynching Case.

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 26.—Oscar Lamping, 30 years old, whom District Attorney Gawthrop refers to as the "ring-leader" of the mob which dragged Zack Walker from a hospital and burned him, was arrested late today and held for murder.

Lamping is a freight brakeman on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and an active member of the Brandywine Firemen. He is married and lives in this city.

Clyde Woodward, who was arrested earlier in the week charged with murder in connection with the lynching, was released today.

All of the men now held in jail charged with being implicated in the lynching will be given a hearing on Saturday, August 26, before Justice of the Peace Paxson, at West Chester, this county.

Died In Norfolk.

Word was received yesterday afternoon of the death of Mrs. M. A. Pritchett at her home in Norfolk, Va., which occurred Thursday night. The funeral will be held this afternoon at that place. Mrs. Pritchett formerly lived here and has many friends who will regret to learn of her death.

GOVERNOR GETS ENCOURAGEMENT FROM LOCAL SUPPORTERS

While in City Yesterday He Was Greeted by Number of His Friends —Gets Encouraging News From Rural Districts of State—Would Not Discuss Politics.

Gov. W. W. Kitchin, who made an address last evening before the Red Men of Revolution, left this morning for Raleigh, where he had several engagements this afternoon. During his stay in the city the Governor discussed the senatorial outlook and received words of encouragement from a large number of his friends.

The Governor would not have anything to say for publication regarding the Senatorial race, in which he will be an entry, but he expressed himself as gratified with the letters of encouragement he is daily receiving from all portions of the State, especially from the country districts. While the Governor has not as yet made his formal announcement of his candidacy it is known that he is already busy mending his fences and will have everything in readiness for a vigorous campaign when the proper time arrives for launching upon the Senatorial campaign.

Having represented the Fifth District in the House of Representatives for several terms Gov. Kitchin has many staunch supporters throughout the district and especially throughout Guilford County. During his stay in Congress Mr. Kitchin secured several appropriations for the government buildings in Greensboro and High Point and also for the memorial arches at the Battle Ground. He is confident of having a large majority in this county. He was given a decided boost at Revolution last night by E. Sternberger.

The Governor realizes that the contest will be far from a tame one, as do the other aspirants for the toga worn for years by F. M. Simmons, who also desires to hold to what he now possesses. Ex-Gov. Aycock has a strong following throughout the State and Chief Justice Walter Clark's friends declare that he will not be far from the goal when the race is finished. If a Senatorial primary is held the State over it is doubtful whether a nomination would be secured in the first primary and a second would have to be held to decide upon the winner.

TO FOUND SECOND ZION CITY

Widow of Dowie To Establish Colony in Michigan.

Zion City, Ill., Aug. 26.—Announcement was made here today by "Elder" John Taylor that Mrs. Jane Dowie, widow of John Alexander Dowie, founder of Zion City, will found a new colony of the Dowie faith at her summer home, Ben MacDhui, near Whitehall, Mich.

Mrs. Dowie, according to her followers here, will be assisted by her son, Gladstone Dowie, of Detroit. She will dedicate her summer home and 200 acres of ground to the cause of the new colony and will attempt to secure several hundred additional acres upon which to locate the new city.

Mrs. Dowie has issued a call to all residents of Zion City, Ill., who are faithful to her to move their families to Whitehall and join her in this colonization project.

Beginning early in October, Mrs. Dowie personally will open a series of meetings in Chicago, with the purpose of securing new converts and followers to join her in establishing the proposed second Zion City.

Since the death of her husband several years ago and her withdrawal from the Illinois colony Mrs. Dowie has been living in retirement on her Michigan estate.

MISS CLEVELAND ENGAGED.

Definite Plans for Wedding to R. D.
West Not Divulged.

Tamworth, N. H., Aug. 26.—It is understood that the marriage of Miss Esther Cleveland, oldest daughter of the late President, whose engagement to Randolph D. West of New York, was announced yesterday, will take place in October. The family say nothing about the affair.

Miss Cleveland is devoted to athletics, being an enthusiastic tennis player and motorist. Mr. West is the son of a Princeton professor and has been attentive to Miss Cleveland for some time. It is said that Mrs. Cleveland will build a bungalow on her estate here for the young couple.

TAFT WILL BE REMEMBERED FOR HIS FAILURE TO STAND FOR THE PEOPLE.

"When famine raged in Ireland, sixty-five years ago, a great British statesman led a portion of his Tory or Conservative party in the House of Commons to repeal the corn laws. That was not the beginning. Four years before, as Gladstone has testified, numerous protective duties on manufactures and materials of production had been repealed. The great manufacturing towns had come into the right of representation, and the self-reliant British manufacturers demanded relief from intolerable tariff burdens. There was no veto power to thwart the will of the British nation," says the Philadelphia Record.

"No famine, it is true, threatens this country. But conditions have been essentially modified since Congress met in extra session last April. Since then the Agricultural Department has issued reports indicating short crops of nearly every staple product save potatoes. If it was desirable then to reduce the exorbitant duties on clothing, breadstuffs, and other necessities of living, it is much more desirable now, if any reliance is to be put in the reports of the Agricultural Department. The free list bill would have gone far to compensate the farmers for the shortness of their crops by reducing the cost of many articles of necessity in their households. The wool and cotton bills would have been money in the pockets of every consumer in the land. In mitigating the barbarity of the schedules of duties on clothing the public revenues, discouraged the traffic of the smuggler and promoted the comfort and health of the millions of American people.

"But in striking contrast with the great British statesman who courageously rose above party to lead in repeal of the corn laws, the President of the United States interposes his veto upon a reasonable mitigation of a portion only of an omnivorous tariff system. Sir Robert Peel dared to set the landed interests of England at defiance when he declared against taxation of the bread of the people in the certainty that this would cause the overthrow of his ministry and the restoration of his political enemies to power. William H. Taft, on the other hand, for the benefit of manufacturing trusts, sheep-growing syndicates and other partial interests, puts his veto on measures designed for the welfare of the millions who are most in need of mitigation of tariff burdens. The political history of the two kindred nations presents no such contrast as this. Peel will be remembered throughout all time for repeal of the corn laws. William H. Taft will be remembered as the President who launched vetoes against measures to relieve the American people of a portion of the exorbitant taxes on their clothing and bread."

Mr. Taft is a heavy hitter in the veto class. His batting record in that respect entitles him to Ty Cobb honors.

The Thomasville Davidsonian picks Harmon for next President and Aycock for the successor of Senator Simmons.

The President is "taking a well earned rest" and preparing to go gunning-for votes.

President Taft's next move will be on the stronghold of insurgency. It is safe to wager that his assault will prove fruitless.

Congressmen and Senators will have a little time to repair their fences between this date and the convening of the regular session.

Apparently the Weather Man has changed his mind and will continue for a while to boost western North Carolina tourist business.

The extra session of Congress cost only $300,000, which shows what the Democrats can do for the country. The extra session was worth all it cost.

Colonel Roosevelt says that he would consider his nomination as the Republican candidate for President in 1912 a calamity, but he did not say whether for himself or the country.

It may be true that paper money is usually covered with germs, but it does not stay with the average man long enough to permit him to become germ infected.

Atlanta, Ga., Winston-Salem and Durham, North Carolina, and Spartanburg and Greenville, South Carolina, have not yet managed to connect with the Beattie case. Greensboro has been mentioned in that connection, but this town is not responsible for the fact that Beulah Binford lived here for a short time when she was a child.

There is no doubt about Virginia having a red hot Senatorial race in progress. The Old Dominion newspapers are full of it. Both sides have purchased a large amount of advertising space in the Virginian and each has employed a prominent writer of the State to fill this space. The fight makes good business for the newspapers but it is rough on the people—if they read all the stuff published.

The business men of Wilmington are working systematically to hold and to increase the trade of that city. The business men of every city in the State should be interested in the problem of securing all the trade in their territory. If the right kind of campaign for business is made the merchants of the cities and towns of this State have nothing to fear from outside mail order houses. People trade with mail order houses because they go after business, advertise and offer inducements which cause the people to believe that they can save money by trading with these houses. As a matter of fact, it is generally cheaper in the end to trade with the local merchant, as better merchandise is secured and there is more satisfaction in trading at home. However, the home merchant must learn to seek business in the down-to-date and business-like way in which the mail order houses go after it.

GATES' VAST FORTUNE.

When a Boy, Husked Corn for Neighbors. Left an Estate of $30,000,000.

John W. Gates, who died in Paris on August 9, and was buried yesterday in Woodlawn cemetery after a funeral service at the Plaza, left a fortune of about $30,000,000, according to the estimate of his personal counsel, former Justice Henry A. Gildersleeve, who drew the will in May, 1910. Mr. Gates began his business life as a farmer's boy husking corn for his neighbors in Illinois.

All except about $1,000,000 is left to Mrs. Gates and the only son, Charles G. Gates, but it is stipulated that none of the securities which are the bulk of the estate shall be sold within ten years. Meanwhile Mrs. Gates, Charles C. Gates and the Equitable Trust Company are to hold the securities as trustees.

The $1,000,000 that does not go to the immediate family of Mr. Gates is distributed in about 30 special bequests among his other relatives, his close friends, his employees and his servants. His secretary and his valet are remembered.

Judge Gildersleeve said he did not recall that anything had been left to charity or to institutions. In Mr. Gates' later life he was much interested in a university that the Methodists of Texas planned to build in Port Arthur. Last year he agreed to double any fund the Methodists should raise for the university, whereupon they collected $125,000. Mr. Gates provided 40 acres of land in Port Arthur as a site. In 1909 he gave $500,000 for a hospital in Galveston in memory of his mother and ordered that 2 per cent of his annual earnings on his oil properties should be added each year to the endowment.

"I was called from my office to Mr. Gates' apartments at the Plaza to write the will," said Judge Gildersleeve yesterday. "It is a sound business document, quite characteristic of Mr. Gates. The witnesses were John S. Harris, of Harris, Winthrop & Co., the brokers, 15 Wall street, and my private secretary. After the will had been drawn in accordance with his wishes Mr. Gates turned to me and said:

"Sign it, Judge; I want you for one of the witnesses."

"But I declined on the ground that I believed that Mr. Gates would long outlive me."

"I think that the most interesting feature of the will," Judge Gildersleeve continued, "is the clause stipulating that none of the stocks and bonds of the companies in which Mr. Gates was interested should be sold within 10 years. As I remember, his only comment to me in this connection was that he expected his securities to increase greatly in value in ten years. But I believe he had in mind the protection of his friends and the public against any embarrassment that might be caused by a sudden sale of so

BUSINESS TELEGRAMS

Would you consider it "important" if your chief competitor doubled his advertising appropriation for space in this newspaper? Wouldn't you consider it wise, as well as audacious, in him? And if such a policy would be good for him, could it be bad for you?

Some people will become really interested in a particular store in this city for the first time through reading that store's ad in this issue. And, hereafter, they will read all of that store's ads!

As you win new readers for your store's ads, you win new patrons for your store—naturally.

When you have made your store's advertising interesting and important to a good many people you've won!

Store advertising which contains, always, "opportunity news" will attract more and more readers all the time—readers who watch for each ad as eagerly as they would for any other expected good news.

The people who read your ads are the people who are to make business "good" at your store—their patronage is subject to your influence.

many securities. If either the widow or the son dies within the 10-year period the provision forbidding the sale of these properties will be void."

The business sagacity of Mr. Gates, added Judge Gildersleeve, was demonstrated in his making a contract with the Equitable Trust Company for the administration of his estate at less than the legal rates. He made an advance payment to his friend, President Alvin W. Kreck, of the Equitable, and insured for his estate the saving of many thousand dollars.

When Mr. Gates made his will his wife had one drawn up that was precisely similar. That was because under the law of Texas, of which State Mr. Gates was a resident, the wife owns half of all the property acquired by the husband after marriage and neither can dispose of any of it absolutely by will without the consent of the other. When the will is probated in Texas presently ancillary letters will be issued in all the other States in which Mr. Gates owned property. The will is so drawn that it serves as a conveyancer of property. Three farms, one of them in Illinois, are among the special bequests so made.

Mr. Gates' largest New York holdings probably were in the United States Realty and Improvement Company, which owns the Hippodrome, the Hotel Plaza and other big buildings. Mr. Gates was a director in the company. He also had much money in his Texas company which refines and distributes Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana oil; a big block of preferred stock of the United States Steel Corporation and many other interests, including stock in the Republic Iron and Steel Company, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the American Salt Company. He was also a holder of government bonds.—New York Sun.

FLORIDA ORANGE.

A Bit About Picking and Packing Six Million Boxes.

The effects of the famous freeze which struck Florida about 16 years ago have at last been wiped out. At that time the annual production of citrus fruit had climbed from 600,000 boxes in 1884 and 1885 to 6,000,000 boxes in 1894 and 1895. Then the big freeze happened along and the next season's crop in Florida was only 75,000 boxes.

The industry was practically wiped out. But in the 15 years since then the yield has been slowly climbing again until for the season of 1909 and 1910 it was approximately 7,000,000 boxes, of which 6,000,000 were shipped out of the State.

Within the last two or three years the Florida Citrus Exchange has been organized and it directs the packing and shipping of a larger part of the crop. In the great packing houses of Florida no hand actually touches the oranges, says Progress. Every person who handles them wears white gloves to protect the orange from any possible contamination of human touch and from scratching and bruising by the finger nails.

The pickers move into the grove with their equipment of ladders, baskets, field boxes, clippers, etc. Each picker wears his white gloves and carries a wicker basket, shaped to fit the back or side of the person, swung from the shoulder.

Each basket is lined with thick canvas which is stretched four or five inches from the bottom of the basket. Every orange must be clipped, not pulled or picked, from the tree, the stem being left smooth and flush with the surface of the orange. Each piece of fruit is laid, not dropped in the basket, and when filled the basket is carefully emptied into the field boxes.

Every orange receives a scrubbing before it is deemed fit to be sent to a critical market, and incidentally it is worth just about 20 per cent more after the bath than before, so it pays.

After the bath the oranges are assorted according to size in bins. Besides the bins stand the packers, each, lie the other workers, wearing the ever present white

The Amount You Must Spend On Advertising

It may not occur to the average retail merchant that the proportion of his income being spent on advertising is so small that the effect is like trying to paint a big house with a ten cent can of paint. All this advertising is, of course, good for, even though it brings no results, it shows that the merchant has an open mind in the matter and is subject to reason. Retail advertising, or, indeed, any advertising, no matter how small, to get sure results, must be done on some scientific plan that has guided similar campaigns to success. The most important item in such a campaign is the minimum to be spent on it.

If 999 out of every 1,000 retail advertisers will go into the question of their advertising, I believe they will find that it is not costing them one per cent per annum of their incomes. In most cases it will be found to cost them much less.

How they expect to get results from that extraordinary percentage is known to themselves alone. Only in very exceptional cases will an expenditure like this even return the actual gross amount spent on the campaign.

The most successful retail stores in the world are the large New York, Philadelphia and Chicago Department Stores. These concerns are known all over the world, and particularly so to the men, women and children in the country. If any class of retailers could dispense with advertising it is they. Yet they spend from 5 to 15 per cent of their yearly incomes in advertising their goods. They are not spending that portion of their incomes on advertising as a mere matter of fun, you may be certain. Every retail outlet of outgoing is jealously watched. If one hundredth part of one per cent can be saved, it is saved. The expenditure is the result of careful experiment in all possible conditions and it has been found necessary to spend that amount of their enormous incomes to get the results that they now obtain.

The local retailer may learn a lesson from this. If great organizations like these stores have to spend such a percentage of their incomes to get results—gloves. Here each orange is rapidly wrapped in its square of white paper with the stem of the orange under the twist of the paper. On the end of each box is stamped the size of the oranges within, and when the box is filled it is placed on an automatic carrier which delivers it to the nailer.

Here a specially designed machine presses down the end of the cover which is nailed to the heads, but the middle is left loose from the middle partition of the box. This is called the flush pack, which is demanded by the best markets in the North. From this point the boxes are loaded into the waiting cars on the switch track at the southern end of the house. Each box is placed on end, six boxes across the car and three boxes high. These are then stripped or braced in the car to prevent jarring and consequent bruising in transportation to the markets. Three hundred boxes make a carload.

HEARST ENTERS ARENA.

Editor Threatens to Aid in Organization of Progressive Party.

Political friends of the administration experienced a sensation yesterday of the explosion of a political cannoncracker in their immediate vicinity. Then they woke up to the fact that William R. Hearst had made one of his unexpected moves in politics. Nobody was injured by the explosion, but some Republicans were painfully surprised. Mr. Hearst, through his newspapers, has been showering compliments on President Taft, and his sudden change of attitude naturally caused surprise.

The New York editor executed his latest political move by giving an interview in Paris, in which he clearly indicates an intention of getting busy in national politics. He declares that President Taft large sums like that get proportionately greater results than small sums—what must the small merchant spend to get sure results from his advertising?

When next you consider advertising, Mr. Retail Merchant, figure out how much you are going to spend. If it is less than 5 per cent, sit down and think the matter over carefully and if you can not persuade yourself to spend at least 5 per cent on a scientific plan that has brought success to others, get a mirror and have a good look at a bad merchant.

There is one other important thing about retail advertising.

After you have made up your mind to the amount you are going to spend on it, see that you put salesmanship into the space you buy. Salesmanship is just as necessary in your advertising as it is in your store. With it in both your store and advertising, success is certain, for your sales organization will be so strong that only bad goods or insufficient capital can kill it.

There are four principles to all salesmanship, whether in your store or in your newspaper: First—you must attract attention; second—you must secure the interest of the possible customer; third—you must create a desire to buy, and, fourth, but by no means least—you must induce the actual process of buying.

All these requirements in advertisements necessitate close study and much experience of successful advertising before they can be blended together to make a perfect advertisement. The average retailer is not an expert at advertisement construction, any more than the ordinary grocer is an accomplished physician. How then is the retailer to get advertising that brings results—or as it may be called, salesmanship on paper?

There are on the market now a number of high-grade syndicated advertising services. These services are gotten out by concerns with ample capital who have retained the services of the best retail advertising experts in the country to whom they pay large salaries. These men construct advertisements which are sold to small retailers throughout the country at a nominal cost, ranging from one dollar per week up. The large number of one kind of advertisement supplied to thousands of retailers makes these low prices possible. The services are usually sold in a series of 52, one advertisement for each week in the year, together with a first class copperplate cut of an illustration drawn by a high priced artist. At the top of these columns, will be seen some reduced fac similes of ads of this kind.

The merchant who uses advertising in his local newspaper space without putting salesmanship of that character into it when he can get it for so low a cost, is just like a man who would rather have a school boy in his store to sell his goods than a proven salesman.

The business manager of The Telegram will be glad to supply particulars of the most successful of these syndicated advertising services to enquirers. Merchants are advised to be in time, however, for only one service of a kind can be used in each town.

has taken his stand with "the interests," by vetoing the tariff bills. Mr. Hearst's newspapers praised Mr. Taft overmuch for his stand in favor of Canadian reciprocity.

Now Mr. Hearst intimates that the "trusts," through "corruption and coercion," may "control the Democratic convention, as they will the Republican convention." He declared that "if they shall nominate a trust-controlled Democrat, as they will nominate a trust-controlled Republican, then let the Democratic Progressive League unite with the Republican Progressive League and place a genuine progressive of whatever party in the field, fearlessly to make the fight for the citizens and to oppose the bi-parties' representatives of the trusts." Mr. Hearst modestly refrains from suggesting the nominee of this coalition of progressive elements.

Some of President Taft's friends here felt aggrieved yesterday because Mr. Hearst found it necessary to indulge in the following attack on the President:

"Mr. Taft has fired the first gun of the campaign of 1912 from the camp of entrenched privilege. Let the heavy artillery of the people thunder a defiance. One swallow does not make a summer, and one deserter does not make a disaster, even though he be the President of the United States."—Washington Herald.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newcomb's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a state of healthy condition. Mr. Mammatt, of the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by growing his head with thick hair as long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. FOREIGN SPIES FOUND IN THE UNITED STATES

Startling Evidence Discovered of Activity of Foreign Representatives who Endeavor to Secure Information in Regard to Country's Defenses.

Special to Telegram.

(By VICTOR ELLIOTT.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—Thoroughly aroused by the startling evidence of activity of foreign spies in the United States, the War Department is taking extra precautions against such secret agents, and is giving the most trifling report of that nature searching investigation. Many reports of attempts to gain knowledge of the military secrets of the country have been heard. Some of the incidents are of comparatively recent date, and it was upon the submission of such information to a secret session of the judicial committee of the House that legislation was obtained last session from Congress providing for the severe punishment of spies during time of peace.

It has not been long since an Englishman in Calcutta picked up in the streets a small package of blue prints showing every detail of the defense of Corregidor Island, the main stronghold of the United States in the Philippines. The prints were not copies of any drawings or charts prepared for the use of the United States, but were evidently the result of a careful and deliberate investigation of the official records of the War Department. The existence of the blue prints made it evident that other copies were in existence. The Englishman sent the blue prints to the War Department, but the Department was unable to discover the means by which the information had been obtained.

Numerous incidents have come to the attention of the secret service men and the War Department of spies being at work in this country. A number of arrests have been made and it is interesting to hear of the various methods resorted to by spies to gain a knowledge of the military secrets of this country and at the same time escape detection.

A waiter in a Seattle hotel was arrested and found to be a foreign officer. In his possession were found many maps and other military information that he had gathered of the defenses of the Pacific coast. By assuming such a humble position he was able to wander about the forts without exciting suspicion. An Ambassador recently notified the State Department that a captain belonging to the army of the country in which the diplomat was stationed had been secretly detailed to spend three years in this country studying its defenses.

Even the Panama Canal has not escaped. One of the engineers found a foreign officer, an attaché to one of the South American countries, studying the Panama Canal from a strategic standpoint, and understood that there were six or seven officers of the same country in the United States gathering military information.

Recently in New York a man was arrested for a trivial offense, and in his trunk were found papers and other information which convinced the authorities that he was in the employ of some foreign power.

The incident which convinced the judicial committee of the necessity for the protection act occurred less than a year ago in the Philippines. An enlisted man belonging to the engineer corps was offered $25,000 by two foreign officers for the plans of the defense on Corregidor Island. Being the official photographer, he had ample opportunity to get all the necessary pictures. He informed his superior officers, and a trap was laid for the spies. They were captured and held for trial. Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted, and they gained their liberty as there was no law in the Philippines or the United States under which they could be prosecuted.

The most recent case which has been brought to the attention of the authorities is that of Private James Reter, stationed at Fort Totten, New Jersey. He is suspected of being a spy. It is claimed that he is an officer in the Austrian army. Little consideration is given to this particular case, for the man re-enlisted a short time before his term of enlistment expired. If he had been in the employ of a foreign government, he would not have re-enlisted, but would have been mustered out and returned to his country with the information he had obtained while stationed at the various coast defenses.

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, admits that it is an easy thing to obtain the plans of a coast defense. This is especially true of coast defenses near large cities, where there are always a large number of visitors. Visitors are allowed to walk about and look at the fortifications. In this way they are able to make mental observations. These observations may be put on paper immediately, and sent to a foreign country. It would be impossible to remedy this evil unless the forts were closed to all visitors.

As a precaution against this, there is a general order forbidding any one unauthorized to take any pictures of the fortifications. However, an army expert can remain within the wall of a fort for half an hour, and be able to learn the size and number of guns in the place. Their location and their distance from the water can be readily learned, and the distance of the guns from the shore can be ascertained. It is an easy matter to get the firing distance and a general knowledge of the strength of the defenses by observation. In this way a foreign government can obtain much of the information it wants, and the United States is powerless to stop it unless the defenses are closed to visitors.

There can be little doubt that some of the foreign countries take advantage of the rule permitting visitors to see the fortifications. This is not done because of any intention to wage war upon the United States, but principally to be in touch with the latest developments in arrangements, and make their own fortifications up to date.

FIRST MORO TONGUE PAPER.

The Sulu News Now Published in the Philippine Islands.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The War Department is in receipt of a copy of the first newspaper ever published in the Moro language. It is called the Sulu News and was published at Zamboanga, Moro Province, P. I., June 30, 1911. The editor is Charles R. Cameron, superintendent of schools of Moro Province, and the associate editors are Sheikh Mustafa Ahmad and Datu Raja Wuda Mandi. The front page is printed in ordinary type and the remaining pages in Arabic type purchased in Beirut.

The editor facetiously remarks that the black border around the Sulu section of the newspaper does not signify mourning, but serves merely to protect the Arabic type.

The purpose of this publication is to impart useful information to the Sulu reading population of the Moro Province.

It is stated that this little paper will reach the influential men of a population of more than 130,000 Mohammedan souls.

HOBBO HOW HAS HIS TROUBLES.

Arrangements For National Tramp Convention Strikes Snags.

Washington, Aug. 26.—James Eads How, of St. Louis, the "millionaire hobo" is having trouble trying to make ready for the national convention of hoboes to be held here September 1 to 4.

A request made of the Baltimore and Ohio to place five flat cars at the disposal of the Sons of Rest to bring them from the surrounding country to the convention was refused today, but How is not discouraged. He says there are more ways than one for hoboes to get to Washington.

For several hours today the St. Louis man went around the city looking for a suitable hall in which the convention may hold its sessions. He has not yet been successful in his quest.

Argyle, Minn., Aug. 26.—Eugene Labine, a Marshall county farmer, is harvesting 500 acres of wheat with one machine, working day and night. The binder is run with eight horses, four to a shift, and a headlight is used at night. The night shift of horses stand the work much better than those used in the heat of the day, and Labine predicts night binding will become the custom in the Northwest.

A FISH; A TOE AND A RING.

First Loses, and Second Finds a Wedding Ring.

Pottstown, Pa., Aug. 26.—A fish that was too small to take home and a girl with a Cinderella foot figured very oddly in the loss and recovery of a wedding ring that Mrs. Harvey Wilson, wife of a Pottstown undertaker, dropped in Saylor's mill dam over in Chester county several days ago. The ring slipped from Mrs. Wilson's finger when she tossed a diminutive bass back into the dam. The water was partly drained off in a vain effort to find it, and then the offering of a reward for the missing jewelry made the juveniles of the neighborhood get busy.

While a party of them were wading the dam today a 14-year-old girl felt something slip over one of her toes. She imagined that it was a snake and gave a scream, but an examination showed that it was Mrs. Wilson's lost wedding ring, and she hurried to town with it to receive the reward.

TO CONTINUE STEEL PROBE.

Chairman Stanley Will Remain in Washington During Recess.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Representative Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the House special committee of inquiry into the United States Steel Corporation, declared today that he intended to remain in Washington during the recess in order to prepare for the continuance of the investigation in the fall.

The committee has a force of experts investigating transportation conditions as controlled by the steel corporation and hearings are to be held on that branch of

STOLE; GAVE LOOT TO CHARITY.

Embezzler Says Desire For Social Prominence Caused Fall.

New York, Aug. 26.—The story of an embezzling bookkeeper, who got away with $6,200 of his employers' money and gave almost every cent of it to charity, was disclosed this afternoon when Richard Pacharz, 38 years old, was arraigned before Judge Swann for sentence.

Pacharz was employed by Harris Bros. & Barnett, manufacturers of white goods, 546 Broadway. His thieving extended over four or five years. He was indicted and pleaded guilty in Part I, general sessions, before Judge Swann.

It seems Pacharz was possessed of an ambition to be prominent in social orders. The defendant wrote a letter to the judge pleading that he had been possessed of a madness to gain social distinction and it had induced him to steal. Barnett said friends had made partial restitution in the sum of $600 and that his firm would take Pacharz back, knowing he will make good the balance. He then asked that the court suspend sentence.

"The 'friends' you made spending your employers' money," said the court, "were of two kinds. Some stand by you, some have disappeared. I'm going to give you a chance to repent. One month in the Tombs," said the judge.

It's a pity we can't see others as we see ourselves.

MINERS HAULED THROUGH FIRE.

Six Killed and Four Mortally Hurt in Nevada Disaster.

Ely, Nev., Aug. 26.—Of ten men who were working at the 1,400-foot level of the new five-compartment shaft of the Giroux Consolidated Mines, when it caught fire last night, six are dead and four lie at the point of death after passing through the flames to reach the surface.

The men on the 1,400-foot level heard a noise which they thought was caused by an explosion. They looked up and saw the shaft in flames. They at once boarded the cage and started for the surface, but encountered the flames at the 1,200-foot level and stopped.

Five men left the cage and started to walk through the 1,200-foot level to the old Alpha shaft 700 feet away, through which they hoped to climb out of the mine.

The five remaining in the cage gave the signal to hoist and were pulled through the blazing shaft. One was dead when the top was reached and the four others were badly burned.

Rescue of the five men remaining in the mine was then attempted through the Alpha shaft. At the 400-foot level one was found dead; another body was recovered at the 600-foot level; a third man lay dead at the bulkhead, but Walsh and McNulty were not found and are still in the burning mine.

This is the same mine in which three and a half years ago two men were killed and four others entombed for 46 days on the 1,000-foot level of the Alpha shaft.

The new shaft is one of the largest and deepest in the district and cost over $250,000. Every effort is being made to extinguish the flames, which are still burning.

Murdered His Father.

Boonville, Ind., Aug. 26.—After having been pressed by continuous questioning during almost thirty hours in jail, William Lee last night made a written statement, in which he said he killed his father, Richard Lee, in self-defense, after the father had murdered his wife and younger son Clarence. The bodies of Lee's father, mother and brother were found in their burning home early yesterday and William Lee was charged with their murder, after his statement today Sheriff Seales, fearing the prisoner would be lynched, secretly took him in an automobile to Evansville.

Lee, who is twenty-two years of age, calmly reiterated his story that he knew nothing of the circumstances of the killing of his family until late this afternoon, when apparently he changed his mind, and, calling for paper and pencil, he wrote his statement.

Miss Jessie Combs, of Concord, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Combs, Keogh street.

The cars did not catch fire. Axes were secured and body after body was removed and carried by the rescuers knee-deep in the river bed to the bank of the west side of the trestle. There the dead and injured were laid out on the ground while planks and timber were requisitioned and a field hospital established. It was more than an hour before many of the injured could be removed and special trains from both Geneva and Rochester, brought physicians, nurses and medical supplies. Hundreds awaited treatment and the railroad station at Manchester, a cider mill and an ice house, were used to give temporary shelter and treatment to the suffering.

A harrowing aftermath of the wreck is the scantiness of means of identifying the victims. Rescuers in their haste to remove clothing and effects from the victims neglected to keep the various articles near the bodies and many of the dead were to be found laid at the morgue where careless visitors mixed up garments and identification things.

The breaking down of the telegraph service was confusing because of the inability of those who are safe to send news to anxious relatives. It probably will be days before the full list of dead is made up. The features of some are so badly disfigured that identification in any case will be difficult.

New Race Discovered Maybe.

New York, Aug. 26.—A race of people who had never before beheld a white man or an Indian has been discovered in the Arctic regions of British Columbia by Vilhjarm Stefansson, leader of the American Museum's scientific expedition, which left here in April, 1908, according to a letter received from him in Brooklyn today.

In his letter, which is dated "Mouth of the Dead River, October 18, 1910," and is the first intelligence received from the party within a year, Stefansson says:

"We have discovered people in a region supposed to be uninhabited, and have lived a few months among people who had never seen a white man or an Indian (though they had heard of both) and did not even know I was not an Eskimo, so little were they informed on what white men are like. We have discovered Eskimos (in speech and habits) who are Scandinavians in appearance.

"This find is the beginning of the solution of one of two problems:

"What became of some of Franklin's men?

"What became of the 3,000 Scandinavians who disappeared from Greenland in the fifteenth century?"

"Or, if neither of these questions is to be answered, then we have introduced a new problem of scientific interest."

Judah Carried Captive to Babylon. Jer. xxxix.

Golden Text—Be sure your sin will find you out. Num. xxxii:23.

(1.) Verses 1-2—When a historian gives the day, the month, and the year an event took place, and associates his facts with some other well-known fact, how much weight does that give to the credibility of his story?

(2.) How long did the siege of Jerusalem last before the city was captured? (3.) What were the chief means by which the city was taken? (See 2 Kings xxv:3.)

(4.) Verse 3—What was the real reason for the downfall of Judah and the capture of Jerusalem?

(5.) When a nation gives itself up to a life of sin how much risk is there in prophesying its downfall unless it repents?

(6.) If the "princes" of the soul memory, conscience, will power, and the reverence of God, forsake their position at the gate of the citadel, what other princes are certain to take their places?

(7.) Verse 4—Sinners are generally very brave when in health and prosperity, but when trouble, or death, stares them in the face what generally happens?

(8.) Was there a time, and when, that Zedekiah could have taken such steps as would have kept him on his throne and made himself and people prosperous and happy? (See 2 Chron. xxxvi:11-13.)

(9.) What is the Golden Text for today, and what is the proof that sin will finally destroy happiness and true prosperity?

(10.) Verse 5—Zedekiah fled from the enemy but was overtaken: when does the time come in the life of a sinner when his habits have become like his shadow, which he cannot outrun?

(11.) Verses 6-7—What had been the crime against Nebuchadnezzar of which Zedekiah was guilty? What would be the penalty of a similar crime to-day?

(12.) What was Zedekiah's sin against God, and that of the other kings of Judah who had preceded him?

(13.) What was Zedekiah's punishment?

(14.) See Jer. liii:3; Ezek. xliii, where the fate of Zedekiah is recorded, and compare with v.7 and point out a striking fulfillment and explanation of apparently contradictory prophecy.

(15.) Verse 8—Why is it in God's moral government that the innocent often have to suffer, as well as the guilty?

(16.) Verses 9-10—What class of people did they carry away to Babylon and what class allow to remain in Judah?

(17.) What part of a man's nature does sin destroy, and what part does it leave?

(18.) Verses 11-14—What did the king of Babylon do for Jeremiah, and what is generally the final lot of a man of God?

(19.) Verse 15—What good had Ebed-melech done to be so signally favored of God? (See Jer. xxxviii:1-13.)

(20.) What reason is there to think that God never forgets a good deed done to one of his children? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Lesson for Sunday, Sept. 3rd, 1911. Review.

FARMERS DECIDE TO RID THEMSELVES OF TOBACCO TRUST

Will Pool Tobacco and Hold it Until Decent Prices Can be Secured.

After deciding by a unanimous vote to poll their 1911 tobacco crop and determining upon the method of procedure to carry out the purpose of the convention the joint meeting of the farmers of North Carolina and Virginia adjourned shortly before noon today, the sessions having been harmonious and full of enthusiasm.

The plans as decided upon were formulated in secret session and the details were not given out. However, the plans in substance are that the farmers will place their tobacco in dry prizees, each county to have its own prizee, the managers of the prizees to constitute a bureau of information which will keep tab on all matters pertaining to the tobacco growers and disseminate the information among the farmers of the section. In counties where it is not practical to have a dry prizee slow and co-operative marketing will be substituted.

Heretofore the prizees have had no method of communicating with one another and for this reason the best results could not be obtained. Now, however, the farmer can keep in close touch with the conditions in other sections and thus be fully advised as to the best time to market his product.

The action of the farmers is nothing less than an effort to cast aside the dominating influence of the American Tobacco Company, which for the past decade has held the tobacco farmers in its grasp, paying its own prices for tobacco, the farmers in many cases not receiving the cost of raising the article. With the farmers of the two states banded together it is believed that they can force the trust to pay them prices that will allow a reasonable profit for their labor.

It is understood that the tobacco crop this year will be about 60 per cent. of the average crop. A number of the farmers state that the dry weather has prevented the weed planted from taking on body and weight and the quantity will be below the average. Taking this into consideration the total crop will not average more than 50 per cent. Counting the shortage and the increasing demand for the manufactured product there is but little doubt but that the price will greatly exceed that paid for better tobacco during the past few years.

The farmers here represented more than ten thousand tobacco farmers of the two states and all were unanimous in voicing their desire to stand together through thick and thin if they could cast aside the trust domination and emerge in a position to demand their own prices for their product.

This morning the time was largely devoted to addresses of encouragement to the farmers and advice to stand or fall together.

The majority of the delegates left for their homes on the noon trains, but few remaining here until night. The officers of the two state divisions of the National Union expressed themselves as highly pleased with the result of the convention.

The Progressive People of This Town Send Messages to Each Other Through the Want Ads!

When an employer publishes a help wanted ad he knows that only progressive people will see and answer it. When a property owner prints a "real estate for sale" ad he knows that not many people will read it except those who are able and inclined to buy real estate.

When a landlord advertises a house or apartment for rent he knows that, as a rule, only the "business like" people read and answer such ads, and that he is not apt to secure an undesirable tenant in that way. And the work-seeker, the capital-seeker, the "sub-landlord" who has rooms to rent—these all know that their messages are interesting to live and progressive people—that no others read "the want ad messages."

THERE'S A WANT AD MESSAGE FOR YOU IN ALMOST EVERY ISSUE of this PAPER!

IF THERE WERE NO PARTICULAR MEN THERE'D BE NO TAILORS—WOULD THERE?

Consider it. DEMAND creates supply—in the Art Crafts and Professions.

There are tailors because some people insist on having made for themselves clothes. What sort of people are they who thus assure the calling of the good tailor, and make him an important man in his community? Careless dressers, do you suppose—or CAREFUL ones?

And as for YOU—do you belong to the class of people who insist upon good tailoring, or to the class of people who would make good tailoring a lost art?

SOUTH CAROLINA MAN ARRESTED IN WILMINGTON

Wilmington, Aug. 26.—Following receipt of a telegram to the chief of police from the Sheriff of Macon county, Georgia, that he was wanted in that State for the commission of a felony and requesting that he be arrested, W. W. Strain, a white man, about 35 years old, was taken into custody by the police shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, later committed to the county jail in default of $500 bond to await the arrival of an officer from Macon. The young man was at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dudley, No. 404 North Front street, when he was arrested. The telegram from Macon came a few minutes before 6 o'clock. Chief Fowler was not at police headquarters at the time, but Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, was and he tore open the message. He got busy right away and a warrant was issued for Strain under section 3184 of the Revised Code, charging him with being a fugitive from justice. Councilman B. C. Moore and Officer Davis went to the home of Mrs. Dudley as soon as the warrant was issued by the magistrate. Strain was placed under arrest. He at first thought that he was arrested because of trouble which is said to have occurred at the place shortly before. When he was told by Councilman Moore what was the charge, he said that he was not surprised, but had rather expected it, which, he said, was a result of an unsuccessful partnership with a man in Macon. He is quoted as saying that he probably spent more of the funds of the partnership than he was rightfully entitled to.

A bottle of carbolic acid was found in a pocket of a coat belonging to Strain. Also a number of letters were brought to police headquarters. Some of the number, those written by his wife, were returned to her later. Some of the business letters were retained by Councilman B. C. Moore and turned over to the police. From the correspondence Strain represented some collecting agency of Atlanta, Ga.

Strain did not remain at police headquarters, having been committed to jail in default of $500 bond by Justice Harris. He will be held pending further advice from Macon.

HEAD THE LONGEST WEDS.

Extraordinary Epoch Reaches Sixty-eighth Anniversary.

Bethlehem, Pa., Aug. 26.—An extraordinary epoch in the married lives of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilt, of Centre Valley, was the celebration today of their sixty-eighth wedding anniversary. The aged couple have been married longer than any other couple in the Lehigh Valley. Wilt is 93 and his wife 86.

Wilt was one of the first postmasters in the town, serving for a period of 28 years, from the days of Buchanan till Cleveland came in, and in all his long life he has never been away from home more than a week at a time. He was the proprietor for many years of the Grand Central Hotel, which is now run by his son. When he first took charge of the hotel whiskey was sold at 3 cents a glass and cigars at four for a cent. There was no liquor license to pay at the time. His hotel was famous as a stopping place for stages between this place and Philadelphia before the day of the railroad.

Wilt attributes his good health to abstemiousness, especially in the use of tobacco and liquor.

Winston Concern Gets High Point Contract.

Winston, Aug. 26.—The Caldwell Company has landed the $30,000 contract for the erection of two factory buildings at High Point for the Tomlinson Chair Manufacturing Company. The buildings are to be five and two stories high. They will be built of brick and will be of mill construction.

Women and Society

Dance Last Night.

The dance last night at Lindley Park was a very pleasant event, in spite of the hard rain that came in midst of the dance and caused confusion on the floor. Quite a large number of visitors were present.

Entertained S. S. Class.

Mrs. Charles D. McIver delightfully entertained the members of her Sunday school class yesterday afternoon at her home on Spring Garden street. The membership of the class numbers about 20 and practically all were present. Various games were played and an enjoyable repast was served at the supper hour.

In Honor of Visitors.

Mrs. R. J. Sykes and Miss Elizabeth Westbrook were hostesses at a delightful occasion at their home on Eugene street yesterday afternoon, given in honor of Misses Virginia Seay, of Shores, Va., and Fannie Briggs, of Scottsville, Va., who are visiting Mrs. A. H. Johnson; and Maude Lancaster, of Spartanburg, who is visiting Mrs. Frank Westbrook. The occasion was one of thorough enjoyment to all present.

Leonard—Turner.

On Wednesday evening the auditorium and Sunday school room of the First Baptist church of Statesville were filled to overflowing with friends who had gathered to witness the marriage of J. Paul Leonard and Miss Sadie Turner. Promptly at 8:30 the organist, Mrs. S. D. Swain, a sister of the groom, took her seat, and a short musical program was rendered, as follows:

Duet—"Oh, Lovely Night," by Miss Martha Simons and Floyd Barnes.

Solo—"Schubert's Serenade," by Mr. Barnes.

Solo—"Because," by Miss Simons. Immediately after this program, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride party entered, as follows: Carlton Andrews and Clyde Alexander; Owen Leonard and Ben Ramsey, ushering the attendants; Earl White and Duane Swann, Robert Rickett and De Witt Ramsey, Misses Mayme Wilson and Clara Suite. Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her maid of honor, Miss Sara Ramsey, preceded by little Catherine Brawley, the flower girl. The groom entered from a side door, with his brother, John Leonard, and met his bride at the altar where Rev. J. Clyde Turner, a cousin of the bride, in a beautiful and original ceremony united the young people. While the vows were being taken Mrs. Swain played softly, "Love's Melody." The party left the church in reverse order, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride was attired in white silk marquisette over white satin with Duchess lace and pearl trimmings. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses showered with sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore gowns of point d'esprit over white silk, with large sashes and bandeaux of white sweet peas in the hair, and carried bouquets of white roses and ferns.

The flower girl wore point d'esprit over white satin with satin sash. Her veil was caught up with rosettes and she carried a large bouquet of eleanis. The decorations of the church, consisting of wild ferns, eleanis and hydrangea, were beautiful in their simplicity, and owing to the unusual youthfulness of all those participating, were strictly appropriate on this occasion.

Amid showers of rice and good wishes, the bride and groom left on No. 35 for Johnston City, Tenn., Toxaway, and other points in western North Carolina. On their return they will be at home at Mrs. M. P. Turner's 509 Davis street.

A number of social events were given in honor of the bride by her friends in Statesville during last week, these being the social events of the season.

Miss Ella White, of High Point, spent a few hours in the city between trains.

Miss Mattie Rice has returned to her home south of town after spending a pleasant week in Durham.

Miss Lettie Palmer, of Nashville, Tenn., spent several hours in the city between trains today. She has been the guest of Miss Tillery, of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. A. G. Lynn and family, who have been visiting at the home of E. A. Brown, Schenck street, left last night for New York where they will make their home in the future.

Miss Mamie Anderson of Guilford College is visiting Misses Daisy and Glenora Rominger in Waughtown.—Winston Journal.

Miss Frances Hinkle has returned to Mocksville, after a visit to this city.

Miss Mary E. White of Guilford College, who has been visiting her cousin, Miss Alice Dixon in Yadkinville, spent last night in the city with her aunt, Mrs. M. A. Royall on her return home.—Winston Journal.

Miss Louise Barnes has returned from Winston, where she was the guest of Miss Helen Keith.

Miss Annie Preyer, who has been spending the summer in Cleveland, Ohio, attending the summer school and visiting relatives, has returned home.

Mrs. D. M. Williamson of High Point passed through the city yesterday on her way to Clemmons to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rothrock.—Winston Journal.

Miss Jennie Todd of Jefferson is in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. M. Transou.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Short of Salisbury are visiting in this city.

Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Johnson and children, arrived yesterday afternoon to visit relatives in the city. Rev. Mr. Johnson, who was pastor of the Christian church for several years, will occupy his old pulpit tomorrow.

Mrs. L. M. Clymer, who has been spending a week in Norfolk, will return home tomorrow.

Rev. and Mrs. Shuford Peeler have returned from a visit to relatives in China Grove, Lexington and other places.

PERSONAL MENTION

Ted Sides, of Charlotte, is a visitor in the city.

Rob Vanstorty has returned home after spending the summer at Connelly Springs. He will be at home for several days before he leaves for Fayetteville.

J. B. Marsh, of Salisbury, left last night for a visit to his home.

J. P. Halifax has returned to his home in Spartanburg, after spending several days in the city.

Frank P. Jones has returned to Winston, after a visit to his mother, Mrs. M. B. Jones, in this city.

Charles Andrews is quite ill with typhoid fever at his home, 1209 Spring Garden street.

OFFICERS LOOKING FOR WITNESS IN THE BEATTIE CASE

The local police this morning received a message from Richmond authorities reading as follows: "Please see if you can locate B. J. Thompson, wanted as an important witness in the Beattie case. It might be well to call this to the attention of local newspapers."

It seems that some time ago Thompson wrote the prosecuting attorney a letter from Greensboro, in which he stated that he was willing to go on the stand to give important testimony bearing on the case. Since that time the Richmond authorities have been unable to learn of Thompson's whereabouts. The local police have made efforts to locate him, but it seems that he has not been here in several days.

ST. PAUL GIRL MARRIES TURK.

Groom is First Secretary of Turkish Legation at Berlin.

St. Paul, Aug. 26.—St. Paul society is in a flutter over the marriage today of Richard Edward Blaque Bey, first secretary of the Turkish ministry at Berlin, and Miss Josephine Kalman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kalman, of this city.

Over 1,000 invitations were issued for the ceremony, to be performed in the sacristy of the Cathedral by Bishop Lawler of St. Paul.

The bridesmaids chosen are Miss Cecilia Kalman, sister of the bride, and Miss Kathleen Beresford, daughter of Admiral Beresford of England.

ASKS $600,000 FROM MRS. SAGE.

Minnesota Hopes to Collect Large Amount of Inheritance Tax.

St. Paul, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Russell Sage is to be requested by Attorney General Simpson and Assistant Attorney General Weeks, who will leave for New York tomorrow, to pay an inheritance tax on all her Minnesota lands held under contracts of sale.

It is believed the tax will amount to nearly $600,000. Mr. Simpson hopes to collect from other Eastern estates in the way of back inheritance taxes. Messrs. Simpson and Weeks will confer with Mrs. Sage and her business representatives in an effort to procure a settlement of the disputed tax.

THACKER & BROCKMANN

LIVED ON RAW EGGS

Mr. Richard's Experience With Different Diets. Peaches and Buttermilk for Three Years.

Cecilton, Md.—Mr. George Richards, of this place, during the past 12 years, has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime. What he has to say about his experiments, must therefore be highly interesting to anyone suffering from indigestion or stomach troubles of any kind. He says: "For more than 12 years, I suffered with stomach troubles, and paid hundreds of dollars for doctor bills and medicines. I was also operated on for piles. I lived on dried peaches and buttermilk for nearly three years. The only thing that would not give me pain was raw eggs. I was a physical wreck. I could not sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could well be. I must say that after taking two 25-cent packages of Theodor's Black-Draught, it did me more good than all I ever spent for other medicines. I have been working daily on the farm ever since, and I am as hard as iron. This purely vegetable remedy has been in successful use for more than 70 years. Try it. But be sure that it's 'Theodor's'."

SIX ARRAIGNED FOR LYNCHING ZEKE WALKER

West Chester, Pa., Aug. 26.—Oscar Lamping, William Gilbert, Albery Berry, John Setwartz, George Stahl and Joseph Schofield were arrested this morning in connection with the lynching of Ezekiel Walker, the negro who was burned at the stake two weeks ago. They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Baxton this afternoon.

ANNUAL FRAUD OF $20,000,000.

Public Robbed by Short Weights, Says Indiana Inspector.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Every adult in the United States loses a quarter of a cent every day in the year through short weights and measures of butchers, grocers and fruit peddlers, according to Isadore Wulfson, inspector of weights and measures of Indianapolis, Ind., who addressed the International Stewards' Association, in session here today. In this way, he declares, the American public is defrauded out of $20,000,000 annually.

He declared that Federal supervision of weights and measures was the only way the public could be protected.

The annual convention was concluded at the afternoon session.

L. Fred Klooz, of Pittsburgh, was re-elected president.

The other officers chosen were: Vice Presidents, J. J. Richards, San Francisco; George June, Indianapolis; F. Lenz, New York; A. R. J. Fischel, Atlanta; Roy Parker, Toronto; treasurer, Gilbert Cowan, Chicago, and secretary, Jacob Miller, Chicago.

The next annual meeting of the association will be held at Toronto, Canada.

75 PER CENT. OF THE BIG ADVERTISERS OF AMERICA PREFER EVENING NEWSPAPERS

Out of 400 Large Department Stores 302 say they Prefer Evening Papers and Give Reasons Why

(FROM THE LOS ANGELES RECORD)

OUT of 400 letters sent to the large Department Stores of America asking which they considered a better medium for advertising, a morning or an evening daily newspaper, 392 replied. Of these replies 302 stated they preferred the evening newspaper for advertising; 26 stated they gave the evening paper first copy when they used an evening and a morning paper. As the Department Stores are always the largest advertisers in their respective cities and are in a position to see where the results come from, their opinions, formed from experience, are most valuable. They all speak most emphatically of the advantages of the evening paper over the morning paper for advertising. Of these 302 advertisers who prefer the evening paper a large number of them use the evening paper exclusively and find the returns most profitable.

THE following statements made by the different large firms of America show why they prefer the evening paper over the morning paper:

ST. LOUIS, MO.—The evening paper is best, as it is the one that gets into the homes and stays there. Men carry the morning paper downtown on their way to work in most cases.—Wm. Barr Dry Goods Co.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—The evening paper undoubtedly is the best advertising medium, because it most surely gets into the very hands toward which all department store advertising is intended—the women of the house—and because there is plenty of time to read, plan and digest.—Loveman, Joseph & Loeb.

CHICAGO, ILL.—We spend $325,000 a year and 75 per cent of it is in the evening papers and 25 per cent in Sunday papers. Even with our great morning papers we cannot make them pay, though the experimenting has cost us $100,000.—Siegel, Cooper & Co.

EVANSVILLE, IND.—We prefer the evening paper for advertising because the housekeeper, business man and working man have more time to go through the paper in detail after the day's work is over and have time to plan their next day's shopping. Our experience is that we get quicker and more direct results from the evening paper.—Fowler, Dick & Walker.

BOSTON, MASS.—We consider the evening paper the best medium, because it is taken home and the women get to see it.—Henry Siegel Company.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—We consider the evening newspaper better, because we cater to the working people, and they are employed from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. and their only leisure time is in the evening, and they invariably take only evening papers, and have more time to read advertisements.—Cline Bros.

ALBANY, N. Y.—We consider the evening newspaper a better medium for advertising, because women have more time and better opportunity to read the evening papers.—Waldman Bros.

AKRON, OHIO.—We consider an evening paper a superior medium. The evening paper goes direct to the homes and is more thoroughly read. It is read by men after business duties are through for the day and they are more liable to remember the advertising. The morning paper is used by office men.—C. H. Leager & Co.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—We consider the evening paper the best advertising medium, as the average woman does not take time to read a paper until her work is done.—Ed Schuster & Co.

DETROIT, MICH.—We prefer the evening paper.—Partridge & Blackwell.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.—Best results from evening newspapers. The only time I use a morning paper is Sunday for Monday's business. Balance of the week the evening papers do the work to my entire satisfaction.—The Fair.

LOUISVILLE, KY.—We use afternoon papers exclusively during the week. Morning papers on Sunday only.—John C. Lewis Company.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—For advertisements containing items of special prominence likely to produce a rush, the evening newspaper serves as a better advertising medium, first, because people as a rule, have more time to read an evening paper thoroughly and note the contents thereof; second, it gives an opportunity to shoppers to select what items they contemplate purchasing and allows them time to prepare a program for the next day's shopping.—Burgin Dry Goods Company.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—We prefer the evening paper week days and the morning paper Sundays only, because the evening paper is brought to the home by the member of the family who goes to business and buys and reads the paper on his way home. The Sunday paper is delivered at the home and read in the home.—Price & Rosenbaum.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—We consider the evening paper the better medium for advertising, mainly because the evening paper goes into the home and stays there when there is time for the whole family to read and consider.—Frederick Losser & Co.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—We have always given the evening paper the preference. We spend $40,000 a year for advertising and this all goes into newspapers. We use no other medium of any kind, as we consider ANYTHING OUTSIDE OF THE NEWSPAPER as money wasted.—W. H. Elsinger & Co.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—We consider the evening paper better as a general thing, for it is usually the home paper.—Callendar, McAuliffe — Troup Co.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—The evening paper is, in our opinion, most profitable for advertising.—The Wm. H. Block Company.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—We do most of our advertising in the evening paper.—Wm. Henerer Co.

BOSTON, MASS.—We prefer the evening paper by all means, because it goes into the homes directly, while the morning paper has a tendency to work back into the business section and does not reach the homes in such relative number as the evening paper.—Houghton & Dutton.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Where I've been, almost without exception, the evening paper is the best medium.—W. H. Milligan, Advertising Manager Field, Schlick & Co.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—The evening paper by all means.—The Bailey Company.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—It is our opinion that the evening paper is better, as the shopper is prepared to sally forth the next morning.—Penny & Gentles.

AMERICAN FINANCIAL MINISTER MAKES TROUBLE

His Successful Efforts in Handling Finances of Persian Empire Displease Russia and Her Allies—Peculiar Conditions Exist as a Result

Special to Telegram.
(By VICTOR ELLIOTT.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—International complications have occurred over the appointment of W. Morgan Shuster, a Washingtonian, who is now administering the financial affairs of the Persian Empire.

All sorts of diplomatic correspondence is passing between Russian, German and Italian governmental officials. These claim that Mr. Shuster is so conducting the duties of his office that it is extremely displeasing to the three governments.

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away. Greensboro People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills make sick kidneys well. Can Greensboro readers demand further proof than the following statement:

H. C. Poole, 601 E. Green St., High Point, N. C., says: "Some time ago I noticed that my kidneys were not doing their work properly, the kidney secretions being irregular in passage and causing me a great deal of distress. My back was so weak that after stooping, I had to take hold of something and pull myself up again. I was troubled by dizzy spells and my head ached constantly. My rest at night was broken and in the morning I was so tired and weak that I could hardly drag myself around. Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me and I am grateful to them."

named, although as a matter of fact, Italy and Germany have very little interest in Persia. It is their hope to bring about the resignation of Mr. Shuster in a quiet way, and without international complications between the United States Great Britain and Persia on the one hand and Russia, Germany, France and Italy on the other.

The whole matter has come about because of the tremendous interest that Russia has in the Persian empire. It is this country that has more to lose than any other European country if the new Persian reform government is successful in maintaining its solidarity.

So far, under the guidance of Mr. Shuster, Persia's finances have been well administered, and a reign of prosperity has been inaugurated that in a few years will spread throughout the Shah's realm. The happy thought of Mirza Ali Kuli Khan, Persian Minister to the United States, in having Shuster appointed to head this country's financial system, has proved to be a guarantee that will place Persia on a sound financial footing with every great power in the world.

But this will not be accomplished if Russia, Germany and Italy have anything to do with it. Russia's interest in Persia is extensive, and ultimately it is the hope of the Russian government that Persia will be annexed to the Czar's dominion. Germany and Italy are hand in glove with the Russian government in this respect, and rumor has it that if a diplomatic coup of this kind is successful, both Germany and Italy will ultimately receive a slice of the country as their reward in backing up the Russian policy.

But these countries are not reckoning with Great Britain. The British empire is in the market for all the territory that it can obtain anywhere in the world, but it is known that it is not after any concessions of territory in Persia. Her trade with that country is almost as extensive as Russia, and her interests are wrapped up in the financial investments of the country. Naturally her sole aim is territorial aggrandisement is to be left out, is that the trade debts be promptly met.

France is interested in the Persian country to about the same extent, but her sympathies are closely associated with those of Russia and Italy, and she must take sides in the matter with some of the powers, a peculiar situation is presented by her tacit alliance with her hated rival, Germany.

Whether the matter will reach a crisis is not expected unless Mohammed Ali Kahn, the deposed Shah who "escaped" from a Russian prison, is able to regain the throne of Persia and hold once again his influence over the country. In that event it is expected that the plans of the reformers who have thus far so successfully placed the Persian government on a sound basis will be completely upset, and the country once more will sink into its old time evils.

According to the declarations of Mirza Ahmad Sohrab, treasurer of the Persian American Educational Society, W. Morgan Shuster, who is serving as treasurer general of Persia, is all that prevents annexation of Persia by the Russian government.

"Objections to Mr. Shuster as the treasurer general of Persia," said Mr. Sohrab, "are being made by Germany, Italy, France and Russia. These countries for a time refused to accept the checks issued by Mr. Shuster, who has the sole power of signing checks upon the Persian treasury and matters got into a chaotic state in Teheran."

Mr. Sohrab exhibited a cablegram he received from a high official of his country which reads:

"The financial reform introduced by Treasurer General Shuster inspires universal confidence among Persians and British commercial interests, as is recognized by all English residents, but they are combated by the Russian legation, which has organized a diplomatic campaign against Mr. Shuster."

This shows the true conditions existing in Persia at this time, and the high regard of the Persian people for Mr. Shuster, as well as the great handicap he is laboring under in affecting a rehabilitation of the Persian finances.

Continuing, Mr. Sohrab stated: "All the State revenues, in conformity with the principles of sane finances, have been placed in charge of the treasurer general. He now pays, with the approval of the Russian Bank itself, the coupons of the Russian loans, the upkeep of the Cossack Brigade, and other charges formerly paid by the Belgian director of customs."

"The Russian Minister has protested. The German, French and Italian representatives made a similar protest, that of the German Minister being couched in insulting language."

The real object of the policy directed towards Persia, Mr. Sohrab explains, is to obstruct the financial reorganization of Persia, so that Russia can step in and take the country.

"If Mr. Shuster resigns, the last hope of the Persian people will be gone," declared Sohrab. "Russia is determined to annex Persia, but before she can accomplish that she must put Mr. Shuster out of the way. She wants to place a Russian in the office of treasurer general."

"The progressives of Persia are placing all their dependence on Mr. Shuster. If he resigns, which I do not think he will, the people will give up, and the European powers soon will be successful in their efforts to control my country."

Taft's Recall Veto Shows DISTRUST OF PEOPLE--BRYAN

Allows Judges to Nullify Acts of Congress, But Fears to Let Public Pass Judgment on Them, He Says.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 26.—In commenting on President Taft's veto of the Statehood bill, which embraced the judges' recall in the Arizona constitution, William Jennings Bryan says:

"The trouble with President Taft is that he is distrustful of the people. He has no fear of the tyranny of a minority but becomes hysterical at the thought of the majority making a mistake. He is willing to retire from the White House and, without giving the public any information as to recommendations relied upon, appoints judges to nullify acts of Congress, but he can not think of allowing the voters to sit in judgment upon the acts of a judge."

"When he refuses to allow Arizona to frame her constitution to suit herself, subject to the restrictions of the Federal constitution, he shows leanings toward a centralized government, and when he becomes frightened at the recall he discloses a lack of faith in the capacity of the people for self government, a lack of faith in their intelligence and patriotism."

"The President is an honest man, but his environments have biased him against the people. He is as suspicious of them as a king's courtier is of democracy."

Mr. Bryan continues to devote more attention to Leader Underwood. He says:

"Mr. Underwood persuaded the Democratic caucus to consent to delay in the introduction of a bill reducing the iron and steel schedule, and now comes the demands of the Senate, insisting on such a reduction on iron and steel as a Senate amendment to the cotton bill. It must humiliate Mr. Underwood to have the credit for this reduction taken from his committee and a Democratic House and given to the Senate minority. It would have been far better if that branch of Congress, having a clear majority, had taken the initiative."

"Mr. Underwood says that the company he is interested in can make pig-iron more cheaply than it can be producing anywhere else in the world, but he does not say that his company sells it at a lower price than other companies charge. If his company sells at prices fixed by the steel trust, it is just as much interested in the tariff as the trust. A little more light on this subject would be acceptable."

GUN FOR AIRSHIP TESTED.

Rear Admiral Twining's One-Pounder Passes First Trial.

Washington, Aug. 26.—A one-pounder gun, designed by Rear Admiral Nathan C. Twining, chief of the naval bureau of ordnance, to destroy aeroplanes in battle, was partially tested at the proving grounds of the navy at Indian Head, Md., today.

Its preliminary performance was satisfactory to the ordnance experts. Only one shot was fired and at an angle of 85 degrees the shell was sent 2,000 yards into the air and dropped into the Potomac 600 yards distant from the gun.

The test concerned principally the carriage of the sky-shooting weapon. This feature is believed by the naval officers to have been perfected, permitting the elevation of the gun at almost any angle. All the naval guns at the present time are constructed to shoot at objects on a horizontal line, and one of the difficult problems to solve in the proposed aerial gun is a carriage which in some way will diminish the tremendous recoil from a gun aimed in a practically vertical position.

Another difficulty and probably the greatest, is the sighting of such a gun. The trajectory of a shell fired in the air is radically different from one fired horizontally, and experiments with proposed sights will be conducted tomorrow. If the one-pounder, which was manufactured at the Washington navy yard, proves a success, three or four inch guns will next be constructed.

Tsar and Czar.

Frequently the inquiry is made as to why the spelling tsar, to designate the emperor of all the Russias, should be preferred to czar. The most natural and obvious answer is that the spelling indicates the Russian pronunciation of the word, which czar does not. The title comes from an old Slavonic word, which some authorities are agreed is not derived from the Latin caesar, but there are authorities who hold that its ultimate derivation is from the Roman. The origin of the common spelling is supposed to be the writings of Herberstein, about 1550. The letter "c" in Roman-Slavonic has the sound of "ts." The letter was copied, but the sound was not. The letter "z" never belonged in the word. The spelling czar is now regarded by many as old fashioned. With some Germans the spelling is zar, which is pronounced tsar. Many of the French have adopted tsar as the spelling, and that form is increasing in English. The London Times, a most careful authority, employs it, and so does the Encyclopedia Britannica in its supplementary volumes.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Green Constable.

A new constable on duty in a provincial town handed to a sergeant a shilling which he said he had found. The man with the three stripes told him he was quite right in acting as he had done. Proceeding on his round, the sergeant met a brother-sergeant and, with a grin, told him the tale of the shilling. They both agreed the new recruit was very green, and at the conclusion of their duties they went to the nearest inn, and the possessor of the coin called for two drinks. On receiving them he threw down the shilling to pay for them, but the landlord refused it, saying it was a bad one. The sergeant, notoriously mean, had to supply the requisite amount out of his own pocket and also to put up with the laugh against himself. On his telling the constable his find was a bad one the man answered: "Yes, of course it was. Do you think I would have been silly enough to give it to you if it hadn't been?"—Pearson's.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

LAST GAME ON LOCAL DIAMOND THIS AFTERNOON

Hornets and Patriots to Play Concluding Game—Patriots Won Yesterday.

This afternoon's game is the last of the season of 1911 for Greensboro. The Hornets and Patriots will meet at 4 o'clock at Cone Park for the final event of the season and a good game is anticipated.

Monday the Patriots will go to Spartanburg for three games and Thursday the team will move down to Anderson for the rest of the season. Charlotte goes from here to Winston to play the first of the week and the last three days of the season Spartanburg will be in the Twin City.

A glance at the percentage column will reveal the fact that it is possible for Greensboro to catch Winston in the pennant race by next Wednesday night. The strong Hornets team will take the Twin aggregation with a vengeance and may take two of the three games. Bauswine's wildness and Carroll's three-base hit were the principal features of yesterday's victory over the Hornets by a score of 8 to 6. In the fifth inning Bauswine walked four men in a row, which forced in one man and left the bases crowded. Carroll came to the bat and slashed out a drive to center that cleaned the bases and left him on third. In the beginning of the seventh Fuller led off with a double whereupon Bauswine was relieved by Hankie. Clapp got a double off Hankie scoring Fuller. Lowman got a pass to first. Carroll advanced the basemen and Stuart lined out the hit that scored Clapp and Lowman.

Walters was on the mound for the locals but was in poor form, allowing twelve hits, out of which the Hornets got six runs and would probably have taken the game but for Carroll's great drive. There were pretty fielding stunts by Rickard and Doak especially, and the entire outfield and infield played classy ball.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

We'll Try Always to Have the Things You Like—And Always to Have New Things Good Enough For You to Learn to Like.

"Likable" food is the rule here. Even people who are "fussy" about their foods usually grow good natured in a good restaurant. This restaurant is doing its part all the time to foster that cheer and optimism in people which must always result from eating good food—perfectly cooked, invitingly served. Something you like is always on the bill of fare—and its sure to be prepared AS YOU LIKE IT. And many things which you WOULD LIKE, even on first acquaintance, may always be found here.

If "Bargain Hunting" Is Extravagance, Isn't It Strange That Bargain Hunt- ers Can Always Afford It!

And haven't you noticed that, even if the family income is not at all great, the bargain hunting woman always seems to have the money with which to indulge her "extravagance?"

This fact should teach her critics something—perhaps teach them that the fixed habit of intelligent buying, based upon a persistent study of the ads, is a form of "extravagance" that should prevail in every home in the land!

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Officials of the Harriman System of railroads have refused to confer with a committee appointed by employees and as a result it is quite probable that 25,000 employees will strike soon.

NOTES FROM ELON COLLEGE

Special to Telegram.

Elon College, Aug. 26.—The Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees on yesterday examined the books of the retiring Treasurer of the College, the Rev. P. H. Fleming, who goes to Greenville, Ohio, as pastor of the First Christian church of that city, and Dr. Fleming turned over the papers and moneys of the corporation to the incoming Treasurer, Rev. L. I. Cox. The Finance Committee of the Board consists of Drs. W. C. Wicker and G. S. Watson.

The College Power House is now undergoing extensive repairs. New grates are being installed and other necessary additions and improvements are being made to the plant. It will be in readiness for the opening.

Prof. Ned F. Brannock, of the Chair of Physics and Chemistry who has been in the hospital at Greensboro for more than a month suffering from a serious case of appendicitis, is now at his home and is doing well. He will be able to resume his professional duties with the opening of the college.

A vacation issue of the Elon College Weekly is being brought out and will be mailed to all students and prospective students. It will contain matters of vital interest to young persons who are contemplating the matter of going to college this fall.

Mrs. Maggie Tate, widow of the late Mr. W. Samuel Tate, and her daughter, Miss Mamie Tate, will move from their residence here to Norfolk, Va., where Mrs. Tate's son, Mr. Robert O. Tate, is in business. Their residence will make a nice home for some one.

Mr. D. W. Brown is building a large barn on his premises north of the campus and will move his livery stable from the Lambeth property on West College street to his home about the first of September.

The continued drought has necessitated the boring of several deep wells by many of our villagers. The college deep well, like Tennyson's brook, goes on forever; it has not lowered an inch during all the continued dry spell.

College buildings and grounds are putting on the opening air. All that is needed to make them ideal college homes is the merry ring of student voices and that will not be lacking in abundance after the fifth of September, when the students will arrive for the fall term.

RAILS RECEIVED FOR ELKIN RAILROAD

Elkin, Aug. 26.—Five carloads of steel rails for the Elkin and Allegheny Railroad were received here this week and are being distributed along the line and will be put down as fast as possible. Cross-ties are being put down rapidly and it will not be many moons until the iron horse will go snorting up the Elkin valley towards the Blue Ridge mountains and wake the natives with his shrill whistle and fulfill the long cherished hopes of our noble mountain citizens.

The Surry Baptist Association held its ninth annual session with the church at Zephyr. There are thirty churches belonging to this association with a membership of about fifteen hundred. J. G. Burris, Esq., of Rockford, was elected moderator and Rev. C. F. Fields, of Elkin, clerk. There was one new church added to the association during the year, and from the reports of the different churches the indications point to considerable improvement in the spiritual condition of people composing this association.

Rain is badly wanted and needed all through this section now. No rain has fallen for three weeks and the weather has been unusually hot. The water in the streams is the lowest ever known. The corn crop is suffering more for rain right now than at any time during the summer and unless rain comes pretty soon the crop will be very short.

Salisbury Preacher Goes to Jacksonville, Florida.

Salisbury, Aug. 26.—Rev. E. S. Ivery of the Chestnut Hill Baptist church, who has just returned from New London where he has been aiding Rev. Thomas Carrick, of High Point, in a series of meetings, leaves tonight for Jacksonville, Florida, where he will supply for the Third Baptist church of that city during the month of September.
